To Whom It May Concern,

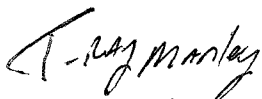

Steve Holladay was the key note speaker for our Purity Program. His approach to addressing sexuality was done both biblically and professionally. Ministering at this church for a short time I was not sure about having an outside speaker come in and minister along side me. The response from the students, parents and leaders was very positive and complimentary to the over all program.

Addressing sexuality with a diverse audience of different age, maturity, and spirituality can be difficult. Steve's approach was interactive and engaging creating a higher level of learning and understanding for all that were present.

The cost for this session proved to be an investment that was transformational in the lives of the students. Days and weeks later students would continue to refer back to the illustrations and teachings Steve gave. The follow up he provides with emails, resources and DVD's is an example of one who not only knows the information but wants to provide support after he leaves for the students and leaders to escape an unhealthy view of sexuality.

I would recommend Ultimate Escape, Steve Holladay to other youth ministers, churches and schools that are looking for a ministry for teens that would address sexuality biblically and with sound clinical theory.
