Dear Friend,

Recently we invited Steve Holladay of Ultimate Escape to teach our Wednesday evening Adult class for 2 weeks. Believing that as adults and parents we need to deal with our own sins first, we asked him to speak only to our adults. (We plan for him to return to speak to the teens in the near future.) The information and personal content he shared was presented clearly to both the head and the heart. Especially for such a sensitive subject, the response was overwhelmingly positive from everyone - parents, elders, ministers. I know it sparked numerous conversations between parents and teens regarding healthy sexuality. I would highly recommend for him to shine some of God's light on this challenge with a group of adults and teens at your church. Please call or write me if you need further information, I will be happy to discuss Steve and his ministry with you. Thanks to Steve for the courage in accepting the call to share this message of hope.

In Him,
